

Spring Break Camp Leader

The Richmond Museum invites applications for a responsible, enthusiastic and creative Spring Break Camp Leader to deliver the Junior Curators Spring Break Camp from March 13 to 17, 2023, for up to 12 children ages 6-8.

The Richmond Museum offers a dynamic Junior Curators -- Spring Break Camp that introduces children ages 6-12 to the exciting behind-the-scenes world of a museum. Children apply what they have learned by creating an exhibit for public display at the Richmond Cultural Centre.

The Spring Break Camp Leader is responsible for delivering this program independently under the supervision of the Educational Programs Coordinator. Responsibilities include:

- » preparing materials and resources for each day of camp
- » maintaining a positive and healthy learning environment
- » maintaining active supervision, especially during field trips
- » liaising with Museum staff and parents
- » providing direction to volunteers
- » evaluating and providing feedback about this program

Qualifications:

- a minimum of 2 years experience supervising groups of 10+ children;
- a minimum of 3 years of post-secondary education in museum studies, history or education, and/or related experience in a museum, heritage or a cultural setting;
- enthusiasm for working with children; and
- passion for history, culture and museums.

$22.00 per hour plus 16% in lieu of benefits

Work Period:

March 13-17, 2023, from 8:30am-4:30pm

Plus an additional 20 hours for prep work at home or on-site

E-mail cover letter and resume: museumed@richmond.ca

No phone inquiries, please. Only short-listed applicants will be notified.

Deadline for submissions is Monday, February 20, 2023